MONUMENTAL ENTRANCE DOORS FROM PIRNAR

Opposites Attract

The VersusBronze line of entrance doors is a unique testament to the artistry and attraction of opposites. The elegant black glass strikes a proud counterbalance to the impressive elements of cast bronze. Seemingly uncombinable materials join to form a uniquely magnificent creation, available only in a limited production. Falling in love always requires at least a little bit of effort.

In the beginning, there is inspiration and passion. Even before we draw the first line and touch the material to work with. Even before we see, shape, and polish. Reason merges with vision and nothing can stop the creative process.

Then the masters come in...

Life becomes exhilarating when two souls, two forces, and two galaxies collide. Everyone is their own world. Seemingly independent. Innovator and artist. Realist and dreamer.

Roman and Mik. When their energies combine, the extraordinary happens. Marvelous, sophisticated, and unrepeatable. Doors that become true works of art. VersusBronze.

ROMAN PIRNAR

Innovator. Craftsman. Entrepreneur. Manager.

Roman Pirnar is life force personified, driven by the singular pursuit of beauty, perfection, and functional aesthetics. Both a realist and a dreamer, Pirnar knows that global success is the product of ambitious dreams, indomitable spirit, and unrelenting hard work. Only with such an uncompromising philosophy and decades of hard work can you dare to create a product that functions both as a door and a work of art.

We're not here just to make good doors but pure masterpieces. We want to push the envelope. That's been our goal for over 50 years now. The door is the first impression someone gets of a house and its owner, so it simply has to be awe-inspiring, a simply perfect technical and aesthetic treasure.

MIK SIMCIC

Sculptor. Painter.
Creator. Artist.

Mik is a widely renowned sculptor and painter, whose artistic career has roots stretching back to his teen years. His artistic expression ebbs and flows from the strictness of his northern influences and the soft contours of the Mediterranean, with his sculptures and paintings always revealing a refined depth of spiritual expression. He retains a true artistic soul, which constantly yearns to undertake and overcome increasingly difficult artistic and expressive challenges.

When the statue is almost finished and a millimeter-thick layer of stone could make all the difference, all that can be done is use a small file, like for your nails, and spend countless hours grinding and polishing, which eats straight into your skin.

Art vs. Craft

Functionality vs. aesthetics? The monumental VersusBronze line brilliantly melds the best of both worlds: incredible utility and traditional craftsmanship with the poetic elegance of fine artistry. The result is a masterful application of sculpture on a piece of functional furniture that shines with its timeless, cast bronze form.

Glass vs. Bronze

VersusBronze is an exceptional combination of mighty bronze and elegant glass. The inspiring dance between power and sophistication lends a special touch to these doors, though the stark contrast of the line's materials posed a formidable challenge for design and production. The result is capped off by elegant black cover glass.

Bronze is an extremely hard, lasting alloy of copper and tin, and is one of sculptors' favorite materials to work with. Hues of gold and copper provide an air of nobility, while patina, the result of various chemical influences, gives that special, sophisticated charm. Bronze is one of the few materials that can be applied to finished doors in very thin layers.

Hand-made vs. Technology

You can't just invent skilled craftsmen on the spot; they are molded and polished over years and years, practicing until they become perfect. When you equip such maestros with modern tools and technology, their creativity can run rampant, leading to doors like the VersusBronze line. Tradition and forward thinking, combined into a timeless masterpiece.

1. The Strongest VersusBronze

Strong and tight construction is at the heart of every truly great door. VersusBronze doors are built with our patented CarbonCore system. Carbon fiber is extremely light and firm, not to mention several times stronger than steel, so this line of doors doesn't flex a millimeter even under the scorching sun or the deep freeze of winter. The CarbonCore is the diamond-hard center that makes VersusBronze functional masterpieces and not just mere aesthetic beauties.

2. The Smart VersusBronze

Smart tech is simply a part of modern life. The VersusBonze line is outfitted with an exceptionally modern solution – SecuroSmart locking with the Pirnar mobile app. Even from halfway around the world, you can lock and unlock your home, with a clear overview of who has come and gone.

3. The Magical VersusBronze

When the sun completes its arch across the heavens and the first stars of the night sky come out, VersusBronze is in its element. SmartLux smart lighting, which you can control remotely with the Pirnar mobile app, lets you adjust color, temperature, and brightness, along with the lighting schedule of the LEDs. It's also easily compatible with other smart home solutions.

4. The Impenetrable VersusBronze

Ready to fight against wind, rain, and cold? The VersusBonze line comes with the Magnet WeatherSeal spring gasket, making for a 6-times tighter seal than normal doors. Put simply, you never have to worry about a single drop of water or gust of wind, no matter how angrily the storm rages. The CarbonCore construction and Magnet WeatherSeal were considered revolutionary enough to boast the title of German Innovation Award Winner!
